Washington Forest Protection Association

Founded in 1908 to help fight and prevent uncontrolled forest fires, members of the Washington Forest Protection Association – including large and small companies, individuals and families – grow, manage and re-grow trees on over 4 million acres of forests today, close to two-thirds of the private commercial forestland in Washington state. Our members are committed to advancing sustainable forestry in Washington state to provide forest products and environmental benefits for the public. We establish balanced forest policies that encourage investment in forestland, protection of fish, water and wildlife and promote responsible forest management as a preferred land use.
